School context

The school currently has 234 pupils on roll. There is an average number of pupils who are eligible for pupil premium, extra funding for disadvantaged pupils, and a lower than average percentage of minority ethnic groups. There is a higher than national average number of children who are either statemented or have an EHCP. There has been an increase in the number of families who are involved with external agencies, Child In Need or Child Protection. There have been significant staffing changes over the last few years. The school is in an unusual position in that it is connected with two churches, St John's and St Cuthbert's.

The distinctiveness and effectiveness of Lytham C of E school as a Church of England school are outstanding

- The excellent Christian leadership of the headteacher, supported by a strong senior leadership team and governing body, ensures that the school's Christian character has a clear impact on pupils' academic achievement and spiritual growth.
- The outstanding and distinctive Christian ethos permeates all aspects of school life and has an important and affirmative impact on pupils' personal and spiritual development. This is evidenced in excellent pupil behaviour and relationships.
- Strong links between school, home and the local churches, underpinned by gospel values, provide a positive Christian witness in the wider community.
- Inspiring and inclusive daily worship is central to the life of the school. Its quality and vibrancy makes a significant contribution to pupils' spiritual development

Area to improve

- Provide further and varied opportunities for pupils to gain a good knowledge of other faiths. This will enable pupils to understand and make links between the beliefs, practices and value systems of other faiths and cultures studied.

The school, through its distinctive Christian character, is outstanding at meeting the needs of all learners

The school's distinctively Christian ethos nourishes, encourages and challenges the spiritual and cultural development of the whole community. Chosen core Christian values including love, service and forgiveness are made explicit and are deeply embedded in the daily life of the school. These Christian values clearly contribute to pupils' behaviour which is outstanding. The staff and governors expound these core gospel values by example, evidenced by the excellent quality of relationships between all members of the school community. This, together with the emphasis on caring for others, makes an exceptional contribution to the pupils' social and moral development. The Christian character of the school enables and supports the outstanding spiritual, moral, social and cultural (SMSC) development of all pupils regardless of faith or culture. All pupils feel safe and special and have positive attitudes to their learning. They know they are valued and loved by staff. The pupils are proud of their school and speak confidently about why it is special to them. One pupil commented, 'It's the way we use our Christian values. We learn about God and follow Jesus. This helps us to do the right thing and help each other.' This has a positive impact on the pupils' excellent personal development, wellbeing and high school attendance. Pupils are highly motivated, exhibit a love for learning and enjoy being in school. This has a significant effect on the good academic standards and progress achieved by the end of Key Stage 2. The data from Ofsted and the school's own assessment confirm these results. Interactive worship and religious education (RE) displays, both in classrooms and central areas, strongly engage pupils and actively promote prayer, reflection and spirituality. They act as a constant and appropriate reminder that the school is a place where the Christian faith is alive and nurtured. The school's work on 'Christianity around the world,' enables pupils to understand culture and life in a part of the world very different from their everyday experience. This also ensures pupils have a thorough understanding and awareness of Christianity as a relevant, multi-cultural and vibrant living faith. This is strengthened by the school's commitment to supporting local and international charities. RE is engaging and of the highest standard which contributes effectively to pupils' outstanding spiritual development.

The impact of collective worship on the school community is outstanding

Collective worship reflects the school's distinctive Christian character and is firmly at the heart of school life. All pupils and adults engage with worship. They say that it enriches and uplifts the life of all in the school community. Daily acts of worship enhance the pupils' knowledge and understanding of the Bible, the Christian faith and God as Father, Son and Holy Spirit. Pupils are confident when discussing their faith and demonstrate a growing spiritual maturity. Worship is a valuable experience for everyone in the school family and makes an exceptional impact on their spiritual development. Pupils enjoy worship, display positive attitudes to it and participate well. Worship is a valuable experience for all pupils and it has a positive impact on their spiritual development and on their daily lives. One Year 5 pupil commented, 'Worship is a time to talk to God. A time to get away from all that is bothering us and just worship together as a school family. We pray to God and think about God and what he wants us to do.' Good planning ensures that there is both variety and continuity and that themes are rooted in Christian beliefs. A range of members from the wider school community contribute to planning. Members from both church communities visit regularly. The two vicars and the children's worker are well liked by the pupils who clearly value their part in school life. One pupil said, 'They are very important because they teach us about God and his son Jesus. They share stories of the Bible with us. They are a big part of this school.' Pupils enjoy planning and leading worship and have many opportunities to do this through the work of the worship leaders, puppet worship and Bible craft groups. There are times set aside for quiet personal reflection and prayer, both in formal and informal contexts. This has a positive impact on pupils' outstanding spiritual and moral development. Many make use of prayer in their own lives and contribute prayers to school worship. Worship enables pupils to recognise their responsibilities to others and to reflect on community and personal values. This is evidenced in pupils' involvement in charitable work and local and national fundraising activities for Operation Christmas Child, Children in Need, the Meningitis Trust and local charitable initiatives such as the local homeless charities. Worship is supported well by high quality displays on Christian values and Christianity around the world. Interactive worship areas in the entrance and classrooms enable pupils to expand their individual prayer life enhancing their spiritual development.

The effectiveness of the religious education is outstanding

RE lies at the heart of the school curriculum. Because the quality of teaching is outstanding RE has a significant impact on pupils' SMSC development. There is an appropriate balance between teaching on Christianity and that which focusses on other religions. Planning of RE is excellent. The RE co-ordinator regularly and effectively monitors lessons, scrutinises teachers' plans and pupils' work, and holds discussions with learners. This ensures the continued high achievement of pupils in the subject and identifies areas for continuing professional development. Attainment and standards in RE are outstanding and in line with the high standards achieved in other core subjects within the school. Progress made by pupils from Foundation to Year 6 is often outstanding. Pupils say they enjoy RE because, as a year 3 pupil remarked, 'It is exciting and you do different things. It's more than just a subject. It helps us understand the Christian faith.' This is evidenced in the work on 'Worship round the World' led by church members. One Year 6 pupil remarked, 'Christians know that Jesus died for us, so he could clear away all our sins. Jesus sacrificed himself for us so we can live.' Extremely thorough and effective whole school assessment, followed within the RE curriculum, shows that progress made across the school is at least good and often outstanding. Pupils demonstrate clearly the impact of RE on their lives and the life of the school. Outstanding teaching, which has pace and challenge, enables pupils to develop a high level of spiritual maturity and knowledge of many of the key aspects of Christianity and the Bible. One Year 5 pupil said, 'When people read the Bible it leads them along the right pathway in life. The Bible is our instruction book.' Pupils have some opportunities to engage with other faiths and this enables them to have a good understanding of cultures and beliefs that vary from their own knowledge and experience. Older pupils apply their learning to possible scenarios in their own lives. They are actively encouraged and supported in this reflection and are keen to discuss their feelings and experiences in lessons.

The effectiveness of the leadership and management of the school as a church school is outstanding

The headteacher leads by example and her Christian faith has a significant influence on the life of the school. This contributes strongly to the school's outstanding Christian distinctiveness. She has a strong and clear Christian vision for the school ensuring that all, including vulnerable pupils, are encouraged and cherished. She is well supported in this by the senior leadership team and the governing body. The governors are fully aware of their roles and responsibilities and make a highly effective and insightful contribution to school leadership. They have a strong commitment to the school's Christian foundation and consistently emphasise the gospel message. Governors have adopted the Blackburn Diocesan syllabus which reflects national guidance. RE and worship meet statutory requirements for the voluntary aided sector. Providing professional development for all staff and governors is a high priority within the school. This has ensured that leadership of both RE and collective worship is a strength of the school. All members of the school family make a positive contribution to church school self-evaluation. This clarifies the present position of Lytham CE School as a distinctive, motivated and caring church school. The development of the school's distinctive Christian character, together with RE and worship is a key component in the school's accurate and successful development planning. Parents are very positive about the Christian ethos of the school. One parent remarked, 'School is a living Christian faith community encouraging children to live out Christian values in school and outside.' The School Council, together with many other means of service to others, ensures pupils are encouraged to play a responsible role in school. The school works with and for the community and enjoys excellent links with the churches and the local community. This ensures that it is at the heart of the community. It helps pupils understand the involvement of the church in the local and wider context. Pastoral care, family values and community spirit are highly effective and celebrated. This is a school where all are welcomed and experience the living out of a consistent and loving Christian vision.
